

AgentScore - Product Documentation

Version: 1.0 | Last Updated: January 2026

1. Project Overview

What the product does

AgentScore is a review platform for real estate agencies. Think of it as "Trustpilot for property agents" — a place where people can:

- Find trusted real estate agents in their area
- Read verified reviews from real customers
- Compare agencies by ratings, reviews, and services

The problem it solves

For property buyers/renters:

- "How do I know if this agent is trustworthy?"
- "Are there any reviews about this agency?"
- "Who are the best agents in Limassol?"

Currently, reviews are scattered across Google, Facebook, and random forums. AgentScore aggregates them into one searchable directory.

For agencies:

- No central platform to showcase their reputation
- Positive reviews get lost across multiple sites
- Hard to stand out from competitors

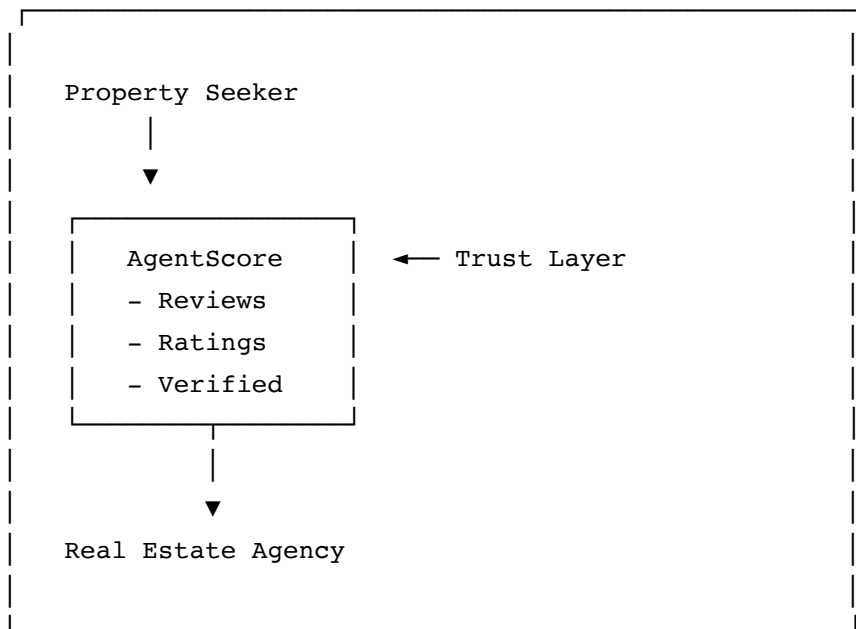

Who it's for

User Type	What They Want
Property Seekers	Find trusted agents, read reviews before committing
Expats	English-language reviews, expat-friendly agencies
Investors	Identify reliable agencies for property investment
Agencies	Showcase reputation, respond to reviews, get discovered

2. Core Concept (High-Level)

The "Trust Layer" for Real Estate

Think of AgentScore as the trust layer between property seekers and agencies.

Why it works:

- Aggregates reviews from multiple sources (Google, Facebook, etc.)
 - Adds user-submitted reviews with verification
 - Creates a single "trust score" for each agency
